Dear Professors Buditjahjanto and Buditjahjanto

We are currently in the process of editing the 9th volume of the series, Advances in in Information and Communication Technology Education (AICTE), entitled “Diverse Teaching Strategies for the Technology-Rich ClBuditjahjantoassroom.” Your manuscript, entitled Learning Programming Technique through Visual Programming Application as Learning Media with Fuzzy Rating published in the International Journal of Information and Communication and Technology Education (IJICTE) Volume 13 Nr. 4 (Oct - Dec 2017), has been selected for possible inclusion in this book.

To assist us in creating a quality publication, we would like to invite you to submit an enhanced version of your Journal article mentioned above for possible inclusion in our upcoming book. You are strongly encouraged to consider the following enhancements in order to improve the overall quality of the article you submit:

- Update the reference and literature review sections so that they include the most current research findings related to the subject of your article.
- Augment any discussions of the issues in the original article to include any recent findings on the coverage of the topic.
- Review and update any tables/graphs/figures that you find necessary to improve the discussion, and incorporate any new information.
- Change the title of the article to incorporate the changes you have made.

Please let us know of your decision regarding this invitation by no later than December 15, 2018.

This is an excellent opportunity to extend the audience of your original manuscript and add another citation to your list of professional publications. To be considered for publication your revised article must reflect a substantial (approximately 35-40%) update from your originally published article.

The abridged Schedule of Deadlines calls for the following timetable:

Initial invitation to journal article authors: November 22, 2018
Author notification of acceptance: December 15, 2018
Author submission to co-editors: January 31, 2019
ERB Reviews due to authors: February 18, 2019
Enhanced chapter submissions to co-editors: March 4, 2019
Review enhanced materials: May 15 – June 15, 2019
Final Deadline of book manuscript to publisher: April 15, 2019

Any additional submission and publishing details will be forthcoming to those authors who accept the invitation to enhance their originally published papers. Should you have any general questions or concerns at this time, please do not hesitate to contact us at the email addresses shown below.

We look forward to hearing from you soon. A short reply to this invitation copying both co-editors (email is suitable) confirming or rejecting the invitation must be received by December 15, 2018.

Dear Contributor

We are pleased to confirm your participation in the 9th volume of the series, Advances in Information and Communication Technology Education (AICTE), entitled “Diverse Teaching Strategies for the Technology-Rich Classroom.” The enhanced version of your manuscript will make an excellent contribution.

As a reminder, your enhanced version should seek to improve the overall quality of the original manuscript by updating the reference and literature review sections, augmenting any discussions of the original issues, updating any tables/graphs/figures to incorporate new information, and/or revising the title of the original article to incorporate the changes you have made. To be considered for publication your revised article must reflect a substantial (approximately 35-40%) update from your originally published article.

Your enhanced chapter should be delivered to the co-editors no later than January 31, 2019. ERB reviews can be expected by February 18, 2019.

We will continue to provide updates as we move through the process together. If you have questions or issues along the way, please contact us by email.

Congratulations and Happy Holidays.

Dear Contributor(s)

The Holiday season took its toll on everyone. Many authors of the ACCEPTED proposal for the 9th volume of the series, Advances in in Information and Communication Technology Education (AICTE), entitled “Diverse Teaching Strategies for the Technology-Rich Classroom” requested an extension to the original Schedule of Deadlines. This is to confirm that your proposal has been ACCEPTED and we anxiously await your revised chapter. However, we are extending the deadline (originally at the end of January) to the middle of February. The extension will allow more time to complete your revisions without impacting the firm publisher’s manuscript deadline of April 15th.

Please see the revised dates for the Author Submission (now February 15), ERB reviews returned to Authors (now March 8), and your Final Chapter Submissions back to the co-editors (now March 22).

Original Deadline Dates/ Revised Dates Highlighted
The abridged Schedule of Deadlines calls for the following timetable:  Initial invitation to journal article authors: November 22, 2018 Author notification of acceptance: December 15, 2018 Author submission to co-editors: January 31, 2019/ February 15, 2019 ERB Reviews due to authors: February 18, 2019/ March 8, 2019 Enhanced chapter submissions to co-editors: March 4, 2019/ March 22, 2019 Review enhanced materials: May 15 – June 15, 2019 Final Deadline of book manuscript to publisher: April 15, 2019

Dear Contributor,

Congratulations on a final acceptance of your chapter for inclusion in Vol 9 of the AICTE, co-edited by Drs. Lawrence Tomei & David Carbonara. We both very much appreciate the timeliness that everyone completed the milestones for the project. We have everyone's revised chapter and are completing final revisions to meet the publisher's deadline of April 15. We expect a summer publication of the book. To ensure everything is in order, we must have:

- (1) A Copyright Agreement (attached with instructions) signed by each author/co-author of the chapter no later than April 1, 2019.
- (2) We are permitted to include a short bio (1 paragraph) for each of the authors. Please send that along with the completed copyright agreement.

We will keep you informed of the final stages of publication. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact us.
